Course Description

This course will introduce you to the geography of human groups and activities around the world. It is also intended to help you improve your critical thinking skills. Along the way, you will learn about cultural difference as expressed through such things as patterns of language use, religious beliefs, and political practices. We will also explore human/environmental interaction and its relationship to differential patterns of development. The class will include a mixture of lectures, outside readings, in-class discussions and activities, and videos. I hope this class stimulates your curiosity about the world and gives you a fuller appreciation of its amazing diversity. The class meets S and I General Education criteria.

Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course students will be able to:

- explain what culture is and why it is a contested concept.
- identify geographical tools and discuss their applications and limitations.
- discern geographical themes and issues in relation to current international affairs.
- assess the cultural impacts and consequences of globalization and other geographic processes.
- examine critical questions related to identity, cultural practices, the creation, modification, and meaning of cultural landscapes, and sustainable use of the environment.
- apply geographical concepts to their everyday life.

Expectations

Please come to class prepared to participate and engage the material. Complete the assigned readings in advance of our class meetings and take some time to reflect on them. Use the Concept Check questions to help you review the textbook material. Bring any questions you may have, and also be ready to share your reactions and comments in class. Respect the views of your classmates.

Make-up Policy

You should make every effort to complete all work on schedule. Make-up work is permitted when a student has a legitimate excuse (see Student Handbook) and obtains the instructor's approval to make up work prior to the scheduled quiz or assignment due date. Students will be asked to provide documentation of their absence. Weddings, spring break travel, family reunions, etc. DO NOT constitute excused absences. Any student who has not made arrangements to make up a missed assignment within one week following the scheduled due date will receive a zero (0) on it. Note: The final exam will not be given earlier than its scheduled time.

Special Accommodations for Students

If any member of this class has a disability and needs special accommodations, I will work with you and the Office of Student Disability Services, 315 Student Union, to provide reasonable accommodations to ensure that you have a fair opportunity to perform in this class. Please advise me of such disability before or immediately following the first scheduled class period in order that appropriate accommodations can be arranged.

Student Conduct in Class

Please refrain from:

1. Surfing the Web, tweeting, texting, or taking calls during the class period. Please set phones to "silent" mode.
2. Doing puzzles or working on other assignments in class.
3. Sleeping. Beware--I like to call on people who are snoozing.
4. Packing up your books and materials before the class period ends.
5. Leaving class early.
6. Talking and giggling with your neighbor, or otherwise disturbing those around you.
7. Wearing baseball caps during exams. If you wear one I will ask you to turn it around.
8. Cheating on tests and assignments (see statement on academic integrity below).

Academic Integrity

Students should review the OSU policy on academic integrity (academicintegrity.okstate.edu; see also the syllabus attachment). All students are expected to uphold and abide by this policy. In particular, you are expected to do your own work. You should be aware that both “taking” and “giving” improper assistance during quizzes and exams is a violation of academic integrity, even if the action is merely passive in nature (such as not covering your paper when you know that someone is looking at it). Cheating and plagiarism are violations of the university’s Academic Integrity Policy. All violations of academic integrity will result in sanctions in accordance with university policy.

If you are not sure what plagiarism is, please consult the following highly recommended web sites:

(1) Indiana University’s Writing Tutorial Service Pamphlet “Plagiarism: What It is and How to Recognize and Avoid It” at <http://www.indiana.edu/~wts/pamphlets/plagiarism.shtml>.

(2) Purdue University’s On-line Writing Lab “Is It Plagiarism Yet?” at <http://owl.english.purdue.edu/owl/resource/589/02/>

Note

The instructor reserves the right to modify this syllabus and/or the content of the course. Every attempt will be made to notify you as soon as possible should any changes be necessary.

DROPPING A COURSE AND WITHDRAWING FROM THE UNIVERSITY students often confuse these terms.

Dropping a Course (or courses) may occur during the first twelve weeks of the semester. This means, however, that you are still enrolled in at least one other OSU course. Exceptions to the deadlines above may only be considered by petition due to documented extraordinary circumstances and committee approval. The Retroactive Drop/Withdraw Petition and the Petition for a Refund of Tuition and Fees forms are available on the Registrar's website.

Withdrawing from the university means that you are dropping all of your courses and are no longer enrolled for the current semester.

This may occur until the Friday before pre-finals week. The withdrawal process is initiated with your academic advisor in your student academic services office. For additional information and dates, go to: <http://academicaffairs.okstate.edu/policies-a-procedures/35-adding-a-dropping-policy>

ALERTS AND RESCHEDULING

If the OSU campus officially closes due to inclement weather or other emergencies, alerts are provided to local news media and are posted on the OSU website. Exams, classes, or assignments that are missed in these circumstances may be rescheduled at times that are outside the normal meeting schedule for the class. If valid, documented circumstances prohibit students from attending the rescheduled classes, instructors should provide reasonable alternative means for makeup.

SEEK ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS

The OSU faculty and staff want you to be successful in your educational pursuits. If you have questions or concerns, seek help EARLY. We are here to assist you.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

101 Whitehurst, 405-744-5627 <http://academicintegrity.okstate.edu>

OSU is committed to maintaining the highest standards of integrity and ethical conduct. This level of ethical behavior and integrity will be maintained in this course. Participating in a behavior that violates academic integrity (e.g., unauthorized collaboration, plagiarism, multiple submissions, cheating on examinations, fabricating information, helping another person cheat, unauthorized advance access to examinations, altering or destroying the work of others, and altering academic records) will result in an official academic sanction. Violations may subject you to disciplinary action including the following: receiving a failing grade on an assignment, examination or course, receiving a notation of a violation of academic integrity on your transcript, and being suspended from the University. You have the right to appeal the charge. Go to <http://academicintegrity.okstate.edu/> for a video on OSU's academic integrity policy and additional information.

COPYRIGHT & FAIR USE POLICY OF COURSE MATERIALS

Course materials may not be published, leased, sold to others, or used for any purpose other than appropriate OSU-related individual or group study without the written permission of the faculty member in charge of the course and other copyright holders. This paragraph grants you a limited license giving you access to materials for this course, including PowerPoint slides, audio/video recordings, written, or other materials, for appropriate OSU-related educational use only. Lectures should not be recorded without permission from the faculty member and must not be further disseminated or shared.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

Class attendance is a critical component of learning; therefore, you are expected to attend and participate fully in all scheduled class meetings. Many instructors consider attendance so essential that your grade may be affected by your absence. SOME DEPARTMENTS AND PROFESSORS HAVE MANDATORY ATTENDANCE POLICIES. If no written attendance policy is provided before the last day to add a class without instructor permission, no penalty may be assessed for class absences although you may not be permitted to make up certain in-class activities. If you are required to participate in official university-sponsored activities or military training, you should receive an excused absence unless the written course attendance policy indicates otherwise. If you will be absent from class for sponsored activities, you must provide prior notification of the planned absence to the instructor. You may be required to submit assignments or take examinations before the planned absence.

PRE-FINALS WEEK POLICY

Final examinations are scheduled at the end of each semester and are preceded by pre-finals week, which begins seven days prior to the first day of finals. During pre-finals week, all normal class activities will continue; however, no assignment, test, or examination accounting for more than 5% of the course grade may be given; and no activity or field trip may be scheduled that conflicts with another class. This excludes makeup and laboratory examinations, out-of-class assignments (or projects) made prior to pre-finals week and independent study courses.

No student or campus organization may hold meetings, banquets, receptions, or may sponsor or participate in any activity, program, or related function that requires student participation. For additional information, contact the Office of Academic Affairs, 405-744-5627, 101 Whitehurst.

FINAL EXAM OVERLOAD POLICY

In the event that you have three or more final exams scheduled for a single day, you are entitled to arrange with the instructor of the highest numbered course (4 digit course number) or two highest, if you have four finals on one day, to re-schedule that examination(s) at a time and place of mutual convenience during final exam week. If the final exam overload includes a common final exam, the common final exam is excluded from rescheduling unless multiple common exams are scheduled at the same time. You should submit this request in writing, with a copy of your class schedule, at least two weeks prior to the beginning of final exam week. The instructor has one week prior to the beginning of final exam week to arrange a mutually convenient time and place for administration of the final exam. After one week, if an agreement cannot be reached, take the request to the department head.

Examples of sexual misconduct and/or sex discrimination include: sexual violence, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic and intimate partner violence, stalking, or gender-based discrimination.
